

Narrow down the research topic to focus on one aspect of the topic, and produce a list of the following types of sources:

1. Book that gives an overview of the topic (provide Library of Congress call number)
2. Scholarly, peer-reviewed article
3. Magazine article
4. Newspaper article

Cite your sources in APA format.

For each source, the senator needs a brief justification (2 or 3 sentences) as to why you selected the source (she doesn't have time to waste reading irrelevant material!). She also needs to know in which online database you found the material in case she needs to go back and locate it herself - this information should be part of your APA citation.

Because you have paid close attention to any and all library instruction you received at Georgia State University, the assignment is a breeze for you, and you complete it in no time. Of course, you are aware that you can always ask a librarian for assistance, because you remember that librarians were always so helpful to you during your college days at GSU.
